CHICAGO'S COLD WELCOME.

"SHUT OUT" IN HARD WEATHER.

A VICTORY FOR THE GIANTS TO-DAY WILL GIVE THEM THE PENNANT.

There was a surplus of cold comfort at the Polo Grounds yesterday. The wind whistled through the rafters of the grand stand and painted the 3,500 rafters of the grand stand and painted the special standard standa It kissed the checks of those of the fair sex present so briskly that it made even the homely handsome. The game was settled in the second inning, when the local club scored three runs on hits by Ward, Gore and Tiernan, sacrifices by Whitney and Welch, and a base on being hit by a pitched ball. The Chicago men only got one man to third base. Welch retired his opponents in one, two, three order for five innings on sixty balls pitched—a wonderful record. The score was as follows:

The benefit will take place Sunday evening, October 13, at the Star Theatre, and will consist of a varied performance by nearly fifty volunteers, among whom are Marion Manola, Laura Moore, Laura Jovec Bell, "Lew" Dockstader, De Wolf Hopper, Digby Bell, Evans and Hoey, Eugene Oudin, Mark smith, Maurice Barrymore, Jeffrey Hawley and Marshall P. Wilder. During the evening the "Giants" will make their appearance in uniform, and will be presented with a beautiful silk pennant. Amos J. Cummings will make the presentation address, and Manager Mutrie will probably deliver a graicful response, if he can part with his smile long enough to do so. Theodore Noss has given the use of the theatre, and all other expenses will be exceedingly small, while the receipts promise to be enormous. The boxes have been sold for $100 aplece, and all the orchestra seats have been taken by members of the Stock Exchange, at prices ranging from $5 to $25 cach. The general admission will be $1. The entire receipts will be divided between the members of the victorious ball team.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIR OPEN. MAYOR HEWITT DELIVERED THE ADDRESS AND

UPHELD TRUSTS. The fifty-seventh annual exhibition of the American Institute was opened last evening at the Institute Building, Third-ave, and Sixty-third-st. Mayor Hewitt delivered the opening address. He compared the exhibitions given to-day with those of fifty years ago as an example of the rapid strides of progress made by the civilized world. This progress was due to individual liberty. The steam engine, chemistry and American liberty had all been born together. He spoke strongly in favor of associations and trusts, since men might join together and accomplish that which would be impossible for an individual to do. They were, when properly managed, friendly, not hostile, to labor and industry, and the organization of capital had been a great benefit to civilization. He urged strongly that every man be fitted for some occupation and that education for the masses should be practical. Among those present on the speakers' stand were:

James Delamater, W. H. Gedney, Charles F. Allen,

William A. Camp, Alexander Knox, James G. Powers, J. Trumbull Smith, Z. Dederick, Robert Rutter, Thomas Rutter, James A. Flack, Alexander M. Eagleson, George Whitfield, John N. Walker, John W. Handren, George Whitfield, John N. Walker, John P. Chatillon, Robert Shannon, J. W. Fellows, John P. Chatillon, Edgar Depeyster and James A. Crouthers.

There are more articles on exhibition this year than ever before. Every inch of available room has been taken, and many new and interesting things are to be seen, while the omnipresent soda fountain fizzes cheerfully away as of old, and the temptingly arrayed piles of candy, the hot waffle man and the thousand other snares to catch the open-eyed boys' stray pennies are again out in full force. The building is tastefully adorned inside with a plentiful supply of American flags. The large fountain in the centre of the hall, banked in with plants, ferns and twining grasses, is unusually attractive, and the effect of the whole interior under the bright glare of the electric lights is exceedingly pleasing. The price of admission has been reduced to twenty-five cents, that more people may be enabled to see the fine display. Last evening the floor was crowded with promenalers, who by turns examined the novel things to be seen and lingered near the orchestra stand. George Whitfield, John N. Walker, John W. Handren,

KING SENT TO THE REFORMATORY.

JUDGE GILDERSLEEVE WOULD RATHER ERR ON THE SIDE OF MERCY THAN OF SEVERITY.

Altamont B. King, the forger, who recently escaped from Deputy-Sheriff Rellly, was arraigned for sentence yesterday, before Judge Gildersleeve. His counsel, A. H. Purdy, pleaded that King had been misled by experienced thieves, and had been induced to pass one of the many forged cheks which have been passed on merchants. Assistant District-Attorney Davis showed seven checks for small amounts which had been passed on merchants, some of whom described the man who had defrauded them as one who resembled King. The prisoner denied that he had passed more than one check. King asked leave to address the court, and said: "I have always, up to last July, tried to lead an honest life. I needed money for my sick wife, and only last night I heard that she was about to pass away. I shall have only my little child left, and all that I ask is that I may have a chance to reform and New-Bowery.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday Justice Daniels presided in the absence of Justice Barrett, who had been summoned to Colorado the night before by a telegram announcing that if he wished to see his daughter alive he must go at once. Soon after the court was open the Special Grand Jury filed in and foreman presented the following report:

The Special Grand Jury of the County of New-York, after an investigation of 735 oriminal cases presented to them since they convened on the 24th of September, 1888, have found indictments in thirty-one cases and have dismissed thirty cases by reason of insufficiency of evidence. They have further sent to the clerk of the Court of General Sessions, no indictments having been found within the time prescribed by Section 142 of the Penal Code, 677 cases. It was that all money received by the Excise Commissioners should be paid into the local treasuries instead of being given to the charitable Institutions throughout the State. The motion was carried unanimously.

TO INVESTIGATE A STORY ABOUT WET SHAVINGS. Assistant Fire Marshal Frank obtained a warrant yesterday for the arrest of David B. Thomas, private watchman at No. 9 East Tenth-st., who, it is claimed, has attempted to burn down the still unfinished Ava apartment house, No. 11 East Tenth-st., three times. Watchman Walsh, who had charge of No. 11, was dismissed and Edward Willoughby, an old fireman, was employed in his place. About 11 o'clock Tuesday night Thomas invited Willoughby into No. 9, and while Willoughby was there, excused himself and went to the yard. Willoughby followed him into No. on the second floor. When caught he said he was throwing on wet shavings to put the fire out. Thomas tried to get out of the building, but fell into the basement and broke two of his ribs. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where the warrant was served on him.

CAMPAIGN DOCUMENTS

THE TRIBUNE. ENTERTAINING AND UNANSWERABLE

The Tribune has issued a series of campaign documents, covering nearly every phase of the contest this year. A budget, containing one copy of each of the documents, including the "Mills bill and Tariff of 1883 compared," will be sent, postage paid, to any address for 30 cents.

The Mills Bill and the Tariffof 1883 Compare being a second edition of the Tribune's document entitled "The Tariff of 1883," twenty pages, in which four pages are added, showing all the reductions proposed by the Mills bill, in detail, and the total amount of revenue reduction which it claims to effect. The cheapest and handlest form in which the Mills bill can be obtained. Ready September 8. Sixteen pages are devoted to showing exactly what articles are protected and what are not under the present tariff, the present duties on every article of imported goods, together with an exhibit of the present free list in full, the quantity of each article imported in 1883 and 1887; and the total amount of duty collected on each article. There is a brief introduction reciting all the tariff acts ever passed by Congress, the object and result of each one being explained. Also, a table of the total imports, year by year, from 1791 to 1887. This little pamphlet is accurate, was prepared with great labor and expense, and will be required continually for reference during the year. It shows how America flings her millions all over the world for foreign labor and products, even under the present tariff, and how importations were increased by the reductions of 1883.

Price, single copies, 12 cents; 100 copies for $8; 1,000 copies for $70. No. 100. "Democracy Photographed; The Record of a Bogus Reformer."-A document re-spectfully dedicated to George William Curtis. A startling review of Democratic appointments, alphabetteally arranged, which are shown by Democratic testimony to violate every rule of fitness and every profession of President Cleveland. No. 105. "The Pension Vetoes," and an elaborate statement of the record of the two parties in Congress with regard to Union veterans; together with rebel flag and other episodes in Cleveland's record and an interesting four-column article from the pen of Congressman Cheadle (Rep., Ind.) on the tariff and old soldiers. No. 103. British Free Trade, a leaflet of two pages, containing Patrick Egan's remarkable letter to The Tribune, showing Free Trade to be the deadliest enemy of the Irisb race, and describing the bitter experience of Ireland under the British free-trade policy. Also containing a description of the Low Wages and Misery in England, by Nathaniel McKay, brother of the famous clipper-ship builder of Boston, Donald McKay; and General Harrison's sympathetic speech and Mr. Blaine's plain words.
